

The Human Energy Field, Personal Identity and Healing

During this two-day seminar, healer/teacher Patricia Langer (see biography page 2) will illustrate how the human energy field develops as we grow from infancy through adulthood, demonstrating how we have become who we are from a vibrational to physical to psychological level.

Participants will learn how personal history and psychology are held in the energy field, and how emotional patterns and illnesses are formed, sustained, released and healed.

In addition, Patricia will demonstrate how she works at a vibrational and shamanic level. Questions are encouraged as they will lead Patricia into aspects of the material that are pertinent to individual concerns.

During 1997 and 1998, when I was experiencing the last stages of terminal liver disease, Pat Langer worked with me on several occasions and also set up a voluntary program for several of her students, one or other of whom worked with me almost daily for several weeks. Quite frankly, this work was of far greater benefit to me physically and emotionally than anything provided by the gastroenterologist who was also treating me, and it was Pat who made the critical call that had me admitted to Toronto's Mt. Sinai Hospital for the treatment of peritonitis, followed by the work-up tests at the Toronto General that enabled me a year later to have liver transplants. The rest is remarkable history. I am profoundly grateful to Pat Langer. FREEMAN PATTERSON

PATRICIA LANGER - *Biography

Patricia Langer was born in a small fishing village on the north shore of Cape Breton Island. She was raised by her Irish Catholic grandparents, both of whom had 'second sight'. Patricia's grandmother had frequent precognitive visions and her grandfather was uncomfortably clairvoyant.

Patricia experienced her first vision of non-ordinary reality at the age of four. Standing at the edge of the ocean saying her evening prayers one summer night, she was catapulted into a great light, taken into an experience of being in everything and she was flooded with what she could only call Love. From that point on Patricia could see energy, was able to read people and to diagnose illness.

At six years of age Patricia was hospitalized for two years with tuberculosis. Since she was not recovering, the doctors were considering the removal of the most diseased lung. Her grandmother refused to allow the surgery until she had made a pilgrimage to the healing shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre in Quebec. Upon her return, the next set of x-rays showed Patricia's lungs completely restored. "I saw the Virgin and knew you were healed," her grandmother said.

At 27 Patricia began practicing full time as a healer. Then in her early 40's she opened her own healing school, offering a three- year healer training program. Approaching 50, Patricia began asking 'What heals?' and how does vision heal? Seeking to know the source of her healing gifts and her vision Patricia traveled to Greece, the Outer Hebrides, France, Africa, and Bosnia visiting traditional healers, healing shrines, visionaries, and Black Madonna sites. She has reenacted the Eleusinian mysteries of ancient Greece that promise a vision that gives one their soul in this life and the next, and received teaching from the Minoan old ones. She has lived with a Nanga (tradition healer) in Zimbabwe and received initiation there from a great Umboyu (seer/healer).

The quest complete, Patricia has spent the past few years integrating the learning and experience of her travels. She has begun teaching again, now more in the way of the 'old ones'. She continues to lead pilgrimages to Greece and France for those seeking vision and healing. Patricia also mentors other healers from many disciplines as well as those whose creative life is also their spiritual path.
